in Hamburg Metropolitan Area

(Senior) flavourist (m/f/d) for the development of sweet flavours
Wanted: fresh ideas and natural notes for new products

As a very successful and rapidly growing company, we are one of the industry's best-known manufacturers of flavours, essential oils and fragrances. We sell a wide range of sensational flavours around the world and develop excellent taste concepts according to our customers' individual requirements. Among others, we supply manufacturers from the tea, beverage, confectionery and bakery industries, and we are a core supplier and valued partner for many companies around the globe. To accommodate our growing business, we continuously invest substantially to modernise and expand our laboratories and production facilities. We are looking for a trained and ambitious flavourist to work with us on a wide range of sweet flavours and to grow together into new applications, markets and customers.

You will get to know the entire team and your colleagues as well as our operational and organisational structure during a tailor-made introductory phase. That way you are well prepared to take over the responsibility for challenging development projects. You will create unique flavours, entire worlds of taste and work on setting trends for new products, such as for tea, cold drinks, confectionery, baked goods and shisha tobacco, but also re-create classical evergreens. You will exercise your good sense of business opportunities. In project briefings you will be in contact with our sales department and have occasionally contact with customers.

You are a well-trained flavourist with profound professional experience. You are considered an expert in creating sweet flavours. You currently work with a wide variety of flavours, products and raw materials, focusing on liquid, powder and encapsulated flavours. You bring dedication, curiosity and fun to creative projects. You are not only setting trends but are also convinced of your very good technical skills as well as on your interdisciplinary cooperation with analytical chemists and application technologists. In terms of your personality, we are looking for a good team player who prioritises his projects and is confident in exchanging ideas within the flavour division as well as in the marketing and sales department.
